Z Cinema is a support software for one of the Logitech's multimedia systems and allows you to easily change the output while watching a movie or listening to a song. It is designed to provide you with various information on your display. Z Cinema is an advanced surround system that aims to enhance your audio experience when you listen to music or watch movies on your PC. It includes TruSurround and other technologies designed to bring you high quality sound. The Z Cinema application allows you to easily change the settings on your system and view its status in a desktop overlay. Although the speakers can be controlled via remote control, the program allows you to adjust the volume and other parameters from the graphical interface. In order to use the application you need to connect the speakers to the computer and use the tray icon to launch the main interface. The program automatically detects the connected device and provides access to its features. When you change the volume or bass level using the remote control, the desktop overlay pops up and displays the SRS status. You have the option to disable this function from the tray icon menu which also includes the option to activate the USB input. Additionally, the app retrieves the playback status from media players such as Windows Media Player, RealPlayer or Winamp. The user has the possibility to specify another player by selecting the executable file from the hard drive. If you want to tune the audio output on your Logitech Z Cinema without using the remote control, this application provides you with an easy to use, large display interface.
