A: You are making an HTTP GET request to ". That means you should change it to a POST request. I'm guessing your following this tutorial since the server's documentation states: "If you want to host the game locally (which is self explanatory, unless you don't have any server at home), don't use the 'http' protocol." -- Note that this says http (not https). Ajaj & Aslam – The End of Awkwardness “The best thing about marriage is that it forces an individual to make the other person their priority and starts teaching them how to behave and at the same time developing a character for life.” So says Mohammad Aftab Hoodbhoy in an interview with Tubelight India. This guy did more than just that for his wife Ajla. He took her to a side of herself that no other man had been able to reach. Read: what Ajaj & Aslam taught us. Ajaj – the shortest of the two names was born as Mohammad Aslam on June 29, 1962 in Lahore to a devout Muslim family. His great grandfather was the revered Shaikh Nazar-al-Islam (Naseemuddaula). Few details on Ajla, who was born on June 9, 1964, are available as he preferred to keep her away from the media once the marriage took place in April 1985. The later life of the couple has been covered by a string of books. One of the tomes - At Home With Fatima - contained several episodes of their Mumbai life. Half a century since they got married, can their journey towards true love

Q: Schedule job time I use Quartz to scheduling some task. This is my code: `Trigger trigger = triggerBuilder.build(); JobBuilder jobBuilder = JobBuilder.newJob(Myjob.class); jobBuilder.start(); trigger.setRepeatInterval(0, TimeUnit.SECONDS);` After some time I receive a message, but my job have not run. What can I do to fix this? A: You don't have the repeat interval set in the trigger. The default is 1 minute. Use the `setRepeatInterval(int, TimeUnit)` method or set the interval in the `SimpleTrigger(jobDetail, CronExpression)`. EDIT You can also set the JobBuilder to have a specific schedule and use the `@Scheduled` annotation. If you want to use Quartz with another scheduler, then you need to provide a jobDetail Q: Ethereum block time I know d41b202975

is a Japanese voice actress who is affiliated with Shochiku. She provides voices for characters in the Fairy Tail, Monster Musume, Animate, and Kasumi labels. The nickname, meaning "red gloved mama", is a reference to her character designer Yoko Shimada's previously used voice actor name. After debuting in 2005 with ANN's Anime! Anime! Anime! Idol Directory issue for November 2005, Ominia Mortis made her first major in-movie debut in Wolf Children in 2012 for the supporting role of Yuki Harada. In 2017, she became acquainted with character designer and anime artist Kenji Watanabe through the Fuji TV talent search program Sailor Stars. The next year, she joined Watanabe's art club. Career Mortis debuted in 2005 as a character singer and voice actress during a special message event for the Fairy Tail anime series. Her first major role was in 2012 at the visual novel game company Sekai Project's subsidiary millefleurs as Yuki Harada, the main character of the Wolf Children visual novel, in the 2015 anime and 2016 video game adaptations of the game. In 2014, she began starring as Myuaku Inudō in Animate and Fairy Oregon. She also voiced new characters in 2015 for the YouTube-streaming duo Demi-Chan and Mimi! with Masayami Kojima and joining the cast of the anime Farm and the sci-fi drama series Hyperdimension Neptunia. During 2017, Mortis joined Watanabe's "Imaginamama Project", following the illustrator into his new media realm, in which she joined Watanabe's "Imaginamama Studio" as a regular artist and became one of the illustrators for all of the "Imaginamama" series. During her time at Watanabe's studio, she was offered by ANN to become the voice actress for Matsu because she was busy at the time, but decided to accept and requested that she would be allowed to continue auditioning and in December 2017, joined GATE to replace the voice actor for Koneko, allowing her to record the lines a few days before her final anime recording deadline. Two months later, she joined Seishun Buta Yarō Monogatari, led by Shochiku's animation subsidiary Be-PAPA, as a voice actress. She voiced
